THE EDITORS' VIEWS.

What the New York Evening Papers Have to Say of Yesterday's Trading.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Mail and Express says: A very uninteresting situation converged on to-day's stock market. Prices moved up, but business drifted into an exceedingly dull condition, the result of a general indisposition to enter into new commitments of consequence pending further developments in the Southern Paclife contest. The stock is being bought here for election purposes and sold in London, and there is naturally some discrepancy in quotations between the two markets.

The market's strength in the face of the Southern Paclife uncertainty was mainly due to an improvement in the labor outlook, the consensus of ment become that prospects to New Haven and Chicago and Sold in London and time loans, and a good feature was the increased offerings of funds at lower rates of interest. Still another incident that had some weight was the resurrection of the upward movement in the price of copper, the result of an active inqury for consumption at home and abroad.

The Commercial-Advertiser says: The

to renew yesterday's raiding by bringing pressure to bear against one of two high-priced issues.

Pennsylvania and New York Central were selected as the particular objects of attack in the early part of the session. But little stock came out in any quarter and covering purchases could not be executed except by bidding up prices. These facts were obvious to the most casual reader of the ticker tape this morning. This followed what in Wall Street phraseology is described as a hardening process, culminating toward the end of the afternoon in numerous sharp advances in individual stocks and a moderate net gain in the general list. The plan of the solid financial interests throughout the recent depression seems to have been to allow the market to act naturally, to receive the short selling and liquidation at such concessions as were needed to attract real buyers, and not to attempt any demonstration with the object of sustaining prices.

The inevitable result of an excessive "bear" campaign—the converse of an excessive speculation for the rise—is that

The inevitable result of an excessive several the converse of an excessive speculation for the rise—is that commitments for a full extend themselves beyond the limits of the available supply for sale. To close those contracts the bids must, therefore, be raised.

The Evening Sun says: The stock market opened generally steady and with the dealings in light volume and almost entirely for professional account, and continued extremely dull up to mid-day. In the early afternoon there was some betterment in conditions in respect both of strength and activity. The only features of the day's situation which seemed to attract the slightest attention was the position of Southern Pacific pool and the prevailing conditions in the money market.

more cheerful sentiment; though it is somewhat singular, supposing this to be a guiding cause, that New Haven shares were not traded in to-day at all, and that New York Central was one of the most responsive stocks upon the list. So of the Southern and Union Pacific shares, which clearly reflected profit-taking on a further building Reading and, as the same people have probably covered their shorts in

But no one pretended to see any plain daylight in that odd affair. The "extension" of the pool announced at the close to-day changes nothing. As for the money market, improvement in stocks could hardly be said to have come from that direction. Call money went at 6 per cent. again, which was lower than yesterday's maximum, but not a mark of very extensive case. The government again drew slightly on the market. Since the bank statement was compiled, however, bank statement was complied, however, it has taken $2,000,000 less than in the same period a week ago.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

Southern Pacific Still an Important Factor.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, March 17.—The opening of the stock market was steady and rather above the closing prices of the previous day, as the loan crowd had given some day, as the loan crowd had given some indication that the markot, at least in places, was rather soid out. Except in stocks moved for special reasons, the buying seemed to be mainly the covering of shorts.

Tennessee Coal and Iron was strong on ceports of excellent earnings for March, The Louisville and Nashville pool met with some success in advancing that stock.

READING ACCUMULATED:
There seemed to be accumulation of Reading in progress, and there is some reason for thinking that anywhere in the neighborhood of 60 the control picks up the stock.

PENNSY LIQUIDATED: There was some liquidation in Pennsylvania, said to be stock sold to protect Philadelphia holders of Consolidated Lake

MANHATTAN'S HEAVY TONE:
The heavy tone in Manhattan was probably ascribable to the labor situation, as shown in the demands of the newly-organized trainmen. The move had no sympathetic effect on the other tractions. DEMAND FOR CONSOLIDATED GAS:

Consolidated Gas seemed to have been eversold and advanced on the demand for the stock in the loan crowd. The stock was ilrmer in the alternoon on the scarcity in the loan crowd. UNION PACIFIC SUPPORTED:

The brokers usually trading for the Harriman interest supported Union Pacific and railled it rather easily on the shorts. It seems to be the opinion in the room that Southern Pacific pool has abandoned its attempt to hammer Union Pacific.

Pacific.

SLOSS ANNUAL MEETING:
At the annual needing of Sloss-Sheffield Iron and Steel Company J. H. Plumer was elected a director in place of John A. Rutherford, and A. E. Ames was elected to fill a vacancy which has existed for some time. Other directors were relected. Mosers, Plumor and Ames represent the Canadians, who have acquired a substantial interest in the company. The annual report of Sloss-Sheffield for the fiscal year ending November 20th shows: Net earnings increased $71,948. The surplus after preferred dividend is equal to $79 per cent, on the common stock.

CAN TRUST ADVANCES PRICES: The Tin Can Trust has advanced its prices $1.50 per 1,000 cans, with an expect-ed additional rise in price soon to take effect.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IN DEMAND:
Southern Pacific was in demand in the loan crowd and looked like it would grow scarcer up to the date when the books close. What that date will be is not known yet, but the market seemed to think that it would be, as usual, on some day prior to the meeting scheduled for April Sth.

hink that it would be as usual, on some day prior to the meeting scheduled for April Sth.

The arbitrage houses are probably short of between 40,000 and 50,000 shares. This stock they are borrowing from the pool to some extent, and also from the banking interests identified with the property, which have always been on the most cordial terms with the foreign houses since they rendered the arbitrage firms a most important service in lending them stocks during the Northern Pacific corner. The Southern Pacific pool has been buying stock here and selling it in London, after first registering it in pool names. If the books close, as it is presumed they will, in about a fortnight's time, it is obvious that this stock will be in the pool's name, as it cannot come over here in time to register and vote.

Afternoon Tradding:

AFTERNOON TRADING:
The market in the early afternoon became extremely dull and narrow, but the tone was firm. There seemed to be a sort of armed truce between conflicting interests, and traders, failing in their early attempts to shake out stock, had covered shorts and were waiting for some new development.

velopment.

NEW YORK CENTRAL:

New York Central seemed to have been hardened up by the people interested in the junior Vanderbilts. The market for these issues is had and was, of course, spolled by the Seward-Webb-Twombly pool, which advanced prices, more than a year ago, to an absurdly high level and found that in doing so they had destroyed all market to sell in. The degression in New York Central, however, can be remedied by manipulation with perhaps some possibility of a sympathetic effect on the other Vanderbilts.

THE CLOSE:

THE CLOSE:
The close was extremely dull, but very hard, and was only marked by a few transactions by traders to even up their day's trading. Commission house business throughout the day had been extremely light, and up to the close business was almost entirely professional.

in the early afternoon there was some better ment in conditions in respect both of the control picks up the stacking of the day's situation which seemed to attract the slightest attentions was the special control of the control picks up the stacking of the day's situation which seemed to attract the slightest attentions was the prevailing conditions in the money market of period to the latter this morning in figures of the dealings between the sub-Treasury and the banks showed a gain for the former in yesterday's transe to the former in yesterday's transe to the former in yesterday's transe of the world appear in the stack of the world appear in the stack of the world appear in yesterday and the banks showed a since that Friday of 18.00.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17,—The spot cotton market was quiet to-day; quotations unchanged.

Futures at the opening were eves with last evening's closing to 3 points higher on the rumor that creases had occurred on the Kansas levee front there was a sharp advance, but as soon as the rumor could be contradicted most of the advance was lost. May and August wore capecially active, while July, September and October received some attention. There were frequent slight fluctuations, the list at the close showing net gains of 468 points.

OFFICERS GO TO AMHERST

Will Serve Notice on Judge Campbell To-Day.

ANSWER IN TWENTY DAYS

This Period Allowed by Constitution and Then Vote Will Be Taken-Will Likely Not Have Counsel on the Floor.

Sergeants at Arms Frank B. B. Watkins, of the Senate, and J. M. Johnson, of the House, will leave here this morning for Amherst Courthouse, where today they will officially serve notice upon Judge Clarence J. Campbell that after the expiration of the twenty days allowed him under the Constitution to make his answer to the General Assembly, the two houses thereof will proceed to vote upon the question of his removal from the office of judge of the County Court of Amherst upon the charges alleged in the resolutions recently adopted on the subject.

The officers were armed with complete copies of the charges, properly certified, and will serve them in conjunction with the formal notice. The papers will be served to-day, and barring unforeseen delay, the two officers will make their return to their respective branches to-morrow. No date has been fixed for the actual taking up of the case for final action, but it will go upon the calendar after twenty days, and may be considered in both branches at will.

PRECEDENTS AGAINST IT.

From present indications counsel upon the floors of the two houses will be nemied the accused judge if he shall ask it, as the House committee have looked into the question and find that precedents are against such allowance.

In the Stevens case Judge Stevens answored within the given time, and asked for counsel, but the records in the case cannot be acted upon finally much show that the request was denied. The case cannot be acted upon finally much before the 10th of April, but it is expected to be disposed of shortly after that time.

What the end will be no man can accurately foretell. The friends of Judge Campbell, but the public generally.

Stocks.

Another bunch of bull tips received from New York Monday and Tuesday. Special letters builling special stocks. "Good things for everybody."
Wall Street wants a fresh lot of "Lambs" to slaughter. If you buy this market you will lose your money. Stocks are a sale, and I strongly advise you to "trade the short side" only.

I will accept orders. Margins 2. No interest.

Cotton.

I believe Cotton is a purchase and would advise buying on all breaks. I offer the best of facilities for trading in Cotton. Trades accepted for 25 bales or more, Margin, $1.00 per bale.
